

Castle

How many children can participate: minimum 6 children

Materials needed:

- 9 different sized flat stones
- a ball

How to play?

Place flat stones, each other and built two castles.

Two teams are made. It is drawn the distance at which the ball is thrown in the castle. Coin toss decides which team starts the game. Each player throws the ball once in the castle adverse (one throw for team 1 and then one throw for team 2). Whether one or more stones crumbling the castle are completely destroyed. Team begins rebuilding the castle to the ground and tries to annihilate the enemy keeping the ball and passing it from one team member to another. If the ball reaches the opponents they will try to aim each child castle reconstruction team trying to remove it from the game. The ball has a gun function.

The key game is the fast movement of the ball between defensive and offensive team.

When all team members are eliminated defensive game ends and the opposing team is winning. If the defensive team fails to rebuild the castle, no matter how many "brothers in arms" are slain on duty prevails.

Play begins by changing the starting order.
